

Company:

Awareity is a Nebraska company founded in 2004: administration and corporate offices are located in Lincoln. The company has extensive experience in several areas: information security, information privacy, policy development, emergency management, risk management, employee engagement, and management consulting.

Government organizations of all types are struggling with budget limitations and lack of resources. Awareity's proven services reduce costs and leverage limited resources by improving efficiencies, automating manually intensive processes and helping people accomplish more in less time and eliminating the need to hire additional personnel.

Company Principle:

Rick Shaw is President and CEO of Awareity and has over 27 years of experience with managing risks, technology, processes, clients and people at both large and small organizations, including EDI and MCI.

In addition to Rick's experiences, hundreds of case studies, incidents and failures have played a key part in Rick's vision and the development of Awareity's unique and forward thinking management tools and services that focus on Controls and People rather than systems and technology. Rick has been a featured speaker at several government, financial and educational conferences as well as multiple industry association meetings.

Key Services Offered:

Managed Ongoing Awareness and Trust (MOAT) is a comprehensive framework of proven and award winning management services and training tools designed to replace expensive and ineffective megaphone management methodologies. MOAT's comprehensive framework includes a Secure Information Sharing Vault, Information Security Awareness and Privacy Awareness modules, On Demand Progress Reporting, Individual-level Certifications, Audit-Ready Documentation and requires no software and no hardware implementation.

Awareity's Implementation and Management Services (AIM) help organizations to reduce costs, reduce risks and maximize efficiencies using Awareity's MOAT tools to meet obligations to ensure secure and protected systems involving personnel security, physical access and information security.

Awareity's Intelligent Templates is a revolutionary on demand suite of tools designed to simplify escalating challenges and complexities associated with translating federal regulations, state mandates and other government guidelines into customized and organization specific security policies, procedures, roles and best practices.

Awareity's Plans, Procedures, Policies and Processes Review and Oversight Services (4PRO) provide critically needed security, training and facility management consulting services. 4PRO consulting services review existing plans, procedures, policies and processes to ensure ongoing security, training and facility management efforts are more cost effective and more efficient.
